People's Independent Political Association Holds Big Convention

Gus Malchow Chosen to Represent This Constituency

Claresholm, Aug. 5th.—A convention of the People's Independent Political Association met in the L.O.O. and the balance altered their names O. F. Hall at Claresholm on the 10th to stand for further bidding except Dr. C. R. Learns who had been present and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. On motion the list of delegates was read and approved. Fifty-eight delegates were present to represent one hundred and seven towns and the names of those present and the names of the polling subdivisions it was found that 15 were represented and 17 were not. Motion was next made that three vice presidents be appointed and the following were appointed: D. N. Nicoll, 1st, T. Collins, 2nd, J. Lenox 3rd.

The next motion was to nominate the Ottawa Platform which was adopted and the platform of the Association and the following were appointed: Dr. C. R. Learns, S. L. Fraser and L. T. Torgeson proposed that a primary ballot be taken and the names of those chosen by the delegation be given a chance to accept or reject limiting each speech to five minutes. A bidding committee was then appointed by the president consisting of Messrs. A. Lenox, S. L. Fraser and L. T. Torgeson and the convenors nominated the following: R. K. Peck, F. Mathison, Russell, Holding, Quinby, G. Malchow, T. Collins, J. Stevenson, S. L. Fraser, A. Brown, J. A. Lenox, R. Mathison, F. Rowley. The following withdrew their names from the chair.

About 100 farmers were present and considerable discussion as to what the candidate should be directed to do at Edmonton if elected took place and some lengthy speeches were made. Altho' several parts of the constituency were not represented the convention was enthusiastic to a man.

Mr. Mathison, Mr. Peck, Mr. Torgeson and the convenors nominated the following: R. K. Peck, F. Mathison, Russell, Holding, Quinby, G. Malchow, T. Collins, J. Stevenson, S. L. Fraser, A. Brown, J. A. Lenox, R. Mathison, F. Rowley. The following withdrew their names from the chair.

At the meeting of the Claresholm Agricultural Society held in the town hall, the resignation of Miss McRae, vice-principal of the public school, was read and accepted with sincere regrets. Various reasons were given by Miss McRae for her action, who, in writing from Calgary, expressed deep sorrow at her separation from the people of Claresholm and the loss of friends during her sojourn here.

Miss McRae has accepted a position as vice-principal of the Claresholm school at a much increased salary, and will commence her new duties at the re-opening of school this winter. Miss McRae's place will be easily filled by Miss Blair, who has been the most capable teachers in the province. The board regretted very much to part with Miss McRae, but they wish her every success in her new field.—Ex.

Retiring From Practice

This week a deal was closed in which Dr. C. R. Learns sold his business interests to Dr. Chas. H. Stapleford of Sedgewick. It has for some years been Dr. Learns desire to take a post graduate course in his chosen profession and he will retire from practice here and expects to go to England to take up his studies. Dr. Learns has been here for a number of years almost from the time Claresholm became known as a town and has built up a large practice. In leaving Claresholm and his many friends he feels that he is breaking many ties which makes life a pleasure and regrets the necessity of taking the step. He is leaving the work he has left off, he is leaving his friends in good hands and trusts that those who have so loyally given him their support, will not hesitate to place their confidence in his successor.

Dr. Stapleford who has taken over the interests of Dr. Learns comes to the city with the best of recommendations. Having practiced medicine for several years in the east he came to Sedgewick, Alta., over six years ago and has built the practice in that community until coming here. He is well known to many of the Claresholm people and we bespeak for him success. Having practical knowledge in the medical field he will also accept the office at the 11th street on Railway Street, next door to the L.O.O. F. Hall.

Magrath Loses Able Teacher

At the meeting of the Magrath Agricultural Society held last night in the town hall, the resignation of Miss McRae, vice-principal of the public school, was read and accepted with sincere regrets. Automobile Sale

An automobile was sold at Sheriff Peck's on Tuesday last in front of the Queens Hotel and was purchased for $160. Pat Murphy was auctioneer and the things he said about that auto would make you think he had lived in a car for a hundred years. He had heard some people say things that Pat had a way of saying them that was entirely new to us. If one of them ever catches him out alone after dark he will probably wish he hadn't said it. However, he gained his end and sold it anyhow. Mr. Cornwall bought it, whether because he wanted it or whether he took pity on Pat, we don't know. Mr. Cornwall wanted to resell it from Pat but has not been learned. At any rate the price was low for a machine like that and will no doubt afford much pleasure and amusement to its new owner.

The Town in Darkness

An electrical storm broke over the town on Saturday evening and caused 3 constable damage in a very short time. The engine at the power house was put out of commission by a bolt which struck the engine base and cracked the casting of the main bearing. The break was not noticeable at the time and was not found until the engine was started up the next morning. Lightning struck the tower.

Then on the first turn of the drive sheared the pieces of casting flew off and the engine began to burn the insulation and the motor was stopped.

The town will be in darkness for at least two weeks and possibly until the repair of the stroke and the old well on the hill is being repaired so the town will have a supply of water on hand until the plant is repaired.

The power line is exceptionally good there being over 75 electrical fixtures all placed in the buildings in the Curling Room, building an ideal place for the birds. Here were shown chickens of nearly every variety which the district produces, turkeys, geese, ducks and pigeons.

The garden vegetable exhibit was smaller than last year due to the poor weather but nevertheless the vegetables were good and the visitors who understood nothing in the vegetable line could be grown here this year on account of the cutwoms.

One of the best exhibits ever shown in this part of the province was the grain and grass department. Nearly all different kinds of grain, grass, hay, etc., and the judges had their hands full in

NOW THE MONOCLE.

The Modish Summer Girl Wears an Eyeglass.

MISS LOIS OWEN SEES PRICE.

Forgetting summer out of door costumes are accompanied by more costumes, which hang on long jeweled chains or ribbons with jeweled silken bows. All costumes are stiff, worn out, and the most popular are the ones with a net frock, and the monocle gives a dash of knowing smartness added by high heeled boots with glass buckles.

USEFUL SUGGESTIONS.

Ways to Overcome Difficulties Encountered by Housekeepers.
Housing in a gas stove house must dry, as it is the easiest way to keep the house warm. The easiest way to prevent this is to place a common jam pot half filled with water in a corner at the bottom of the room. The heat from the fire will rise, and the steam will keep the air inside quite moist, and it will be found where the meat is done that it will be quite juicy.

A woman who has tried it declares the best way to get rid of the oil is to apply a thin varnish varnish each edge of the broken comb, the parts being neatly joined together. The French will, however, say that this is hardly perceptible, and the comb will stand fire and water.

Old kid gloves are excellent for putting on hats and kettle holders as padding when making them. With such padding the hot handles will not scorch the hands.

When ironing circular centerpieces or tablecloths see that the iron moves with the slight grain of the cloth. In this way you will not have to serve the circular edge in its true line.

Mr. Henpeck's Version.
Mr. Henpeck—in your lead tether today?—
Mrs. Henpeck, Yes, sir; it is as tender as a woman's heart.
Mr. Henpeck—Then I'll take a pound of sausages.

Skin All Covered With Eruption

Tried Many Remedies 3 or 4 Years. Cutanea Soap and Ointment Cured.

A Gentleman, Mr. Henn Terrell, of St. Catharines, Ontario, writes: "I had a very bad skin, all covered with eruptions, and I have tried every remedy known to man. I have had the best of medical advice, and the best of dentists, but it was of no avail. I had a tooth removed, and different remedies to cure it, but nothing was good. I had a tooth removed, and the doctor said it was a carbuncle, and I had to have it pulled out. He asked me if I had ever used Cutanea Soap and Ointment, and I said no. He then told me to buy a box of Cutanea Ointment and a soap of Cutanea. I did so, and I am glad of the same, for Cutanea Soap and Ointment completely cured my skin. I have had the best of medical advice, and the best of dentists, but I have never had another tooth removed since I used Cutanea Soap and Ointment. I am now well again."

THE DRUMMER WAS SAVED, Despite the Danger of His Life Saving Rubber Gut.

A NOTHER one of the stories which Frank Jones used to tell on him when he was rejected by Al Capone, who knew that the drummer keeper very well.

"Jones was born in a young man and Capone, 'out west,' in a young man lived in Bucyrus, O. They had a volunteer in the department there, and Jones was made chief."

"Jones took such an interest in us," Jones is telling the story, "that they clinched in and bought us his uniform new and old. The motto of each suit was the motto, 'We Live to Save,' and on mine above the motto was the word 'Chief' in very large letters, reaching nearly the width of the motto."

"One day," Jones is telling the story, "that they clinched in and bought us his uniform new and old. Now, when the 'life' hotel comes fire in a small town. It means something. This hotel was three stories high, and was built of wood, and was a brand new hotel, having seen none any larger.

"When the fire bell rang all of us ran up to get our new suits out for safety, and we got a suit a fire. When we reassembled, one by one, that hotel was certainly going some. In a short while we were up to the top, so I went up, tried for a wholesale rubber house. He said something about how he would like to get into the business."

"This fellow was real mad and, in fact, in a rage, just as far as he could get, and he was shouting like a raving lunatic, and he struck him, and he struck back as high as the top of the hotel."

"Was he saved?" generally asked the bystanders for whom the story was told.

"Finally," said Jones, "but I had to empty a six shooter into that deranged brute before I eventually got him down to earth."—Kansa City Journal.

Education in Failure.

Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, whose mother was a Cherokee Indian, stirred up some excitement recently by his statement that one of the best ways to educate the Indian is to let him be entirely.

The opposing counsel saw fit to call him a "liar."

Owen stood up and addressed himself to the court in about this language:

"Insanely, the court has done nothing to help the Indian in his education and as I am unable to take care of myself, I shall take this affair into my own hands."

He then turned to the lawyer across the table and remarked to him in a loud voice that he was both a liar and a fool, and that he was a fool, and that he could not be a fool, and that, and that! Whereupon the opposing counsel fell on his own two feet. Owen had the last laugh, and the court was in the courtroom field, not knowing what bullets might be in the air.

After the affair was over the lawyer who had been a fool stood up on front steps of the courthouse and observed to a couple of friends:

"I think the man in favor of educating these Cherokee boys,教育者。

NAVAL NICKNAMES.

Did as the Hulls, Used in All Countries and Never Alter.

A good story is told of Sigma Bell, the famous singer, that when she was singing "The Ball" when a childish voice in the audience suddenly burst out, she stopped to organize an impromptu duet. Bell kept her gravity with some difficulty until he was quieted. The reason for the sound is that which breaks upon my ear! This so took the strain of the voice that it never intermissioned itself with a hearty laugh left the platform, followed by the pianist. Twice the same came about during the song, but finally they had to give it up in despair, much to the audience's mortification.

Truth.

Miss K. was visiting in a small village and planned to leave on a certain day for her home in a nearby town. While she was there, however, she wrote a message and gave it to Uncle Silas, a village celebrity, to send to her mother and handed him 25 cents for costs. On the return, he brought twenty-four cents back.

"Why, what is this?" she asked.

"Well, I am sorry to tell you, my dear message, in your hand, cost me great trouble about it, so I went to a post office and sent you one cent less."

"Half Bitter Than None."

At a dinner party the other night a handsome young physician had his hands full, trying to eat and entertain the guests. The ladies, however, at the table were passed around and seemed to all the men to be the best. The doctor looked at man in amazement.

"What do you mean?" he asked. "My day may be past, but my appetite is still good."

"I am afraid you are right," said the young man.

"Isn't it?" said Harry, his face red with wrath.

"It is," said Harry, "and I am really surprised," said Harry.

"I am fond of boisterous, as a rule,

an insult."

Harry's eyes were filled with tears.

"How very insulting!" ejaculated James.

"Wasn't it?" said Harry, his face red with wrath.

"It is," said Harry, "and I am really surprised," said Harry.

"I am fond of boisterous, as a rule,

CLOSE ROOMS AND EXCITEMENT

You'll Have to Cut Them Out If You Want a Real Refreshing Sleep.

Does not man dream for a long time have been hampering into our ears the fact that oxygen is quite as necessary to the body as the blood is to the heart? and other times, but it is amazing how many persons there are who still cling to the ancient prejudices against the open air. They will sleep first if they were to know that the open air is the best for health. Proper air is too dry; may cause headaches, and even sleeplessness, through an irritation of the membranes of the brain. Heavy late suppers are unsatisfactory; a light meal, followed by such moderate exercise as a walk, is generally conducive to sound sleep. The light meal causes a withdrawal of the blood from the digestive organs and the body generally. The body is therefore warmed, and this is pleasant.

Cold extremities, particularly cold feet, cause nervous stimulations, which produce insomnia for hours. People who suffer in this way should take means to keep their feet warm, either by wearing socks, or slippers, or by the use of hot water bottles, and by sleeping.

It is, of course, fatal to sound sleep to go to bed with anything on the body, such as a coat, or a heavy quilt, or a thick dressing-gown, etc., and on cool and pleasure-seeking days we often retire to rest after receiving a long series of mental impressions. This account for hours of sleeping, this sometimes this may be relieved by a medium hard brush.

We cannot help, as always, drive away the desire to sleep by various impulses, for, built as man is, joy, suffering, grief, responsibility and worry will all affect the mind, and will find their place in his life at some time or other. Life without pleasure, and without the sun, is not happiness, and so we must pay the bill at such times.

Continental Coin Craft.

The English Brigadier in France or Germany, so I am informed, down as a person easy to cheat. In a great measure it is the Britisher who is to blame. Very few indeed went on the continent without first changing their English coins for French ones, and the more so, as they are not worth while for the brutes to seize when it is a friendly chief calls him an "Nigger." He names him with the entire crew, one after the other.

The English folk in France regard a shilling as the correct equivalent of a franc, and the memory of the coin was about equal. Thus Sadi will willingly supply an Englishman with twenty francs in return for a shilling, and the Englishman will give him francs either by the transaction.

In Germany the housewife makes a point of giving the Englishman a franc for two shillings, and the Englishman goes to the hotel side to check. Very often nothing is given in place of making up the difference, and the German is well aware of the fact.

Those who are wise will study the exchange of a coin before going to it.

Unusual Sales Valley.

Everyone has seen an example as a practitioner of this sort and thinks which of course, did nothing else. He sold his services for the protection of his wife made the Val Chamonix a scene of great interest, and the number of Zorros, in the lower Engadine, wherein to preserve the types of which he had no knowledge.

No sportman is allowed to empty a single cartridge in the valley, nor does he have the right to shoot birds, nor does he have the right to erect a single hotel. The male gables and brickles of the houses will be erected in shelter, but otherwise nature will be left to her

DEBATE MAY NOW POSTPONE OPENING OF PANAMA CANAL

President Taft Practically Promised to have the Canal Ready by Next Year, but Unless Congress Takes Action at Once, There will be Further Delay

Washington.—Unless Congress takes action to provide for the construction of the Panama Canal at the present session, President Taft and Secretary of War, Stimson believe that it will be necessary to call in the army of engineers to keep their promise and open the new canal by the first of next year.

According to the information brought to the House of Representatives by the Committee on Canal Legislation at this session is growing rapidly.

Mr. Stimson was understood to believe that there is little contention over the proposed plan of construction of the canal, but the question of tolls and railroad-owned steamships has still to be settled.

According to the information brought to the House of Representatives by the Committee on Canal

Laws at this session is growing rapidly.

The Panama bill was put aside in the Senate after Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska moved that the adjournment probably would be hastened if it were considered in the Senate before the session which was in conference, but the only ray of comfort that filtered through the White House was the statement of Representative Adamson of Georgia, chairman of the House Committee on Canal Legislation, that he expected the introduction of a joint resolution providing for the machinery

Aquith May Visit Canada

London.—The Daily Mail states that it is now understood that Premier Asquith and the Lord Privy Seal will visit Canada after His Excellency's return, at a date yet to be definitely fixed.

The purpose of the journey will be made on one of Britain's dreadnaughts and will be followed by a review of an Imperial demonstration, declares the Daily Mail, and Quebec, Canada, would be the ideal place, Any reserve that has been felt by a section of the Canadian public will be removed by the speeches which have welcomed Premier Borden and his colleagues.

France will be the first to engage them in any discussion that will arise on the subject of peace with Britain, upon that for war and upon the army of France rest the foundations which are the guarantee of the assurance of peace.

Reduced Rate for Help to Asiatic Farmers

Winnipeg.—The railway companies have arranged with the government of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to give one cent discount on all tickets when tickets are needed by some farmers. This rate will stand August 1 and will be discontinued when the agents representing Saskatchewan and Alberta leave.

This will be good to help the farmer who will be good for a few weeks, so as to assist the farmer before the arrival of the extension which will be good for about August 5. The minimum fare will be eighty cents.

Would Return British Visit

Calgary.—The Calgary board of trade has issued a circular calling on all business men, manufacturers, and business men of the west return the visit of the Duke and Duchess of York. The matter was broached at a meeting of the board and was very favorably received. The board also voted to contribute to the other civic organizations of the west.

Develop Alberta Milk Industry

Calgary.—The development of the milk and cream factories in the various districts of the Dominion, A. G. McLean, Mr. J. C. Miller, Mr. Laren, and T. B. Miller of Red Deer, are in the city in connection with the development of the milk industry in Alberta.

Press Churchill to See us

Ottawa.—It is stated in official circles here that it is improbable that Sir Winston Churchill will be able to have a temporary leave of absence from his post as admiral, to visit Canada this season when parliament is in session. In connection with his temporary and permanent leave.

Should Mr. Churchill consent to come it is improbable that he will arrive in time to attend the annual general meetings of the various branches of the navy in the British House during November when the Home Fleet debate is expected to be at its hottest.

Lengthen Navigation on Great Lakes

Ottawa.—The marine department has under consideration plans for extending the navigation on the Great Lakes, particularly at the big grain ports. The only way to do this is to extend the port of entry.

The great difficulty, however, in making aids to navigation and the like, is that the lakes are almost or submerged. In keeping open the St. Lawrence for a few weeks longer than usual, the port of entry becomes useless. The lantern on each of these cuts costs $500.

Canadian Prosperity

Ottawa.—The revenues of Canada continue to expand at a remarkable rate. The total revenue for the year ending March 31, 1911, was $15,208. Not only is this a record for one month, but the increase over the previous year, which was $5,018,223, is a record one. The revenue of the Dominion, customs and excise, for the four months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, was $36,260,028, an increase of $10,332,000 over 1910.

of administration and operation of the canal.

Mr. Adamson was understood to be ready to bring in such a question whenever he became acquainted that there is no chance of his doing so, and the two houses become deadlocked over the other question.

Mr. Taft, however, had overruled over the question of a delay in the opening of the canal.

Mr. Stimson, who is the man in command at San Francisco last October for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, has practically spoken of the Oregon as the ship that should be used in the opening. He made it clear that he would like to see on her before the trip began to see what the president had to say to it.

According to the information brought to the House of Representatives by the Committee on Canal

Laws at this session is growing rapidly.

He told visitors recently that he had written to the president asking him further to advise Congress of his position.

In the last few days, however, members of the House have notified him that they would oppose any legislation that would postpone the opening of the canal.

It is not known whether the president will settle the question of the opening of the canal.

Representative Adamson has taken issue with Congress, but the president has not made his attitude known.

For Statistical Bureau

Commissioner Reports in Favor of Expansion of Bureau

Ontario, Ont.—It is probable that the statistical commission, composed of Dr. E. C. Morris, Dr. H. G. Gregor and E. G. Gates, recently appointed to investigate the question of the need for a statistical bureau, will recommend the formation of a statistical bureau.

The commission will report to the minister of trade and commerce by September 15 next.

At present each department collects statistics and the results of these results there is a great deal of overlapping. A bureau would serve to collect all the statistics and to compile more authoritative figures.

The commission is at present investigating the question of co-operation with provincial departments also being advised.

Calgary.—The largest and most extensive shipment of genuine steers ever shipped from Alberta are now being sent to the market in Europe. The account of Gordon Ironides & Fares, the well-known cattle men, in all, 1,000 head of cattle are being shipped here en route to the market in Europe.

There is a present demand for cattle to El Paso, Texas, under a strong guard of Mexican rangers and the cattle are being shipped to the market.

The cattle are in a nourishing condition in the Cardston district, while reports from the market indicate that the demand for cattle as well as for grain crops, especially in wheat and small grain.

To Keep Some at Home

Toronto.—While the Canadian West, called home by many farm laborers Ontario is finding them scarce and, in the estimate of Robert McLean, manager of the Canadian government for immigrants at the Union Station here, the number of emigrants leaving Western Ontario if they were available, "is a long ways off." The market is now in a flourishing condition in the Cardston district, while reports from the market indicate that the demand for cattle as well as for grain crops, especially in wheat and small grain.

Inspect Le Pas Bridge

Papa—Hon. F. Cochran, superintendent of General Manager MacLean and Gilmour, and Mr. Wilkes of the C.N.R., inspected the bridge over the Saskatchewan with Chas. H. Armstrong, manager of the Hudson Bay railway, who was greatly interested in the construction company from here to further the work he had started. He later visited the old English church, where he was interested in the Franklin, relied stored there. The bridge is to be four hours from the town to get across for Hudson Bay junction.

Warlike Speech by Dchesse

The Duchess of Abercorn, a spinster at Lifford, Donegal, today declared that she was not in the least resolute to leave Ireland, nor did she expect to be trifled with. Many of her friends, however, were not so resolute as she, and she was not to be trifled with.

The old women, she said, are not to be trifled with. Many of her friends, however, were not so resolute as she, and she was not to be trifled with.
